Part Two

This assignment is due Friday, or the last day of the school week. Your goal is to earn enough gumballs to eventually fill up your gumball machine in the classroom. The minimum assignment includes the following:

- Eighty to one hundred pages read over the week.
- A summary of what you read in your chapter book this week. Your summary should be 10 or more sentences and use specific details from the text. A good strategy is to make a bulleted list of the details from your reading, then write your summary using the information from your list.
- A colored illustration of a scene from your reading or a representation of something from your book.
